Supply Chain Management System (SCM)

Responsibilities:

Worked extensively with Visual Studio, contributing to all phases of the Software Development Life Cycle (SDLC), with a strong focus on ERP development in the .NET domain. Demonstrated expertise in debugging, thorough testing, and performance optimization to deliver scalable and high-performance applications.

Description:

SCM is a robust application developed by Innatech to efficiently manage incoming and outgoing inventories. Designed specifically for clothing manufacturers and wholesalers, it supports seamless product management across the clothing industry. The system is divided into four key modules: Master, Transaction, and Reporting. The Master module allows users to input and manage essential master data, while the Transaction module tracks daily sales, purchases, and production activities. The Reporting module, built using ASP.NET MVC with grid view controls, provides detailed insights and enables users to download reports in PDF or Excel formats. SCM ensures streamlined inventory operations and caters to the diverse needs of its clients.
